If incurred, interest and penalties associated with uncertain tax positions would be recorded in the period assessed. CIVHC's tax returns

Form 990, Part I, Line 1, Description of Organization Mission:

CIVHC's mission is to cultivate and advance strategic initiatives that and supports health care purchasers, researchers, providers and policymakers through publicly available information on www.comedprice.org and through custom datasets and reports.

Understanding Colorado's Performance in Health, Healthcare and Cost:

CIVHC develops data and metrics to better understand and track Colorado's performance in improving health, improving the quality of care and containing health care costs. Collection of data and enhanced data transparency, reporting, and dissemination are important for both researching elements of how Colorado performs and also using that data to educate and influence how improvements can be made. The CO APCD is the primary tool for achieving that objective. Based on the input of a broad range of stakeholders, CIVHC's public website, www.comedprice.org, includes a set of measures and corresponding dashboards to help track progress in bending the cost curve, improving population health, and enhancing the patient experience across a series of metrics. The site also includes price and quality information for common elective medical services on a named facility basis to assist consumers in making informed health care choices.

Transforming the Health Care Payment System in Colorado." Based on the Framework's goals to encourage payment focused on providing high-value health care and rewarding outcomes, not volume, CIVHC engages with payment reform initiatives in Colorado and nationally by acting as a convener, facilitator, educator and researcher on best practices.

DELIVERY REDESIGN

CIVHC acts as a convener, driver, and change agent in delivery system redesign. With early help from our workgroups, we identified two primary areas-care transitions and palliative care-as ones that could yield the greatest improvements in Triple Aim goals of better health, better care and lower costs. In both of these arenas, we have brought together key stakeholders to identify needs, minimize duplication of effort and create momentum toward shared goals.

Palliative Care: CIVHC has become a go-to source for insight and convening for palliative care issues through our data and analyses. We also supported developing a standard, statewide definition of palliative care that was incorporated into the Code of Colorado Regulations for Health Facilities and Emergency Medical Services. This was an important first step to understanding where and how palliative care services were being provided in the state, as many hospitals and hospices had different definitions of palliative care.

Care Transitions and Healthy Transitions Colorado: As the managing partner of Healthy Transitions Colorado (HTC), CIVHC drives the work of the Collective Impact initiative focused on reducing readmissions and enhancing community care coordination. Since the official launch of the campaign in 2013, CIVHC and the HTC operating partners have engaged critical health care and community partners and have enhanced the services, education and support provided to entities across Colorado. To date we have over 100 community partners from across the health care spectrum that represent communities across the state who are working to establish partnerships and improve care transitions. We host monthly webinars highlighting best practices and approaches to care transitions that are posted on the HTC website, www.healthytransitionscolorado.org, and are available for download on demand. Over the last year, our webinars have been viewed over 600 times by people all over the state and nation. Our monthly newsletters provide information about the newest research and tools available from a variety of sources and are sent every month to over 5000 recipients.

Colorado Health Data Affiliate: In 2012, CIVHC made the strategic decision to act as the Health Data Affiliate for Colorado as a subset of the national Health Data Consortium. The Health Data Consortium's mission is to encourage the use and promotion of publicly available data, make existing data more accessible by consumers and developers, and encourage the development of products and services that improve health and health care.

CIVHC connects with the Consortium as an information source, intellectual partner, and communication hub. The Consortium serves as a national information hub of community level activities that keeps affiliates informed about emerging issues, and provides policy support as needed for key issues involving health data access and use.

CONVENING
